Reports.

The steamer Pluto which arrived yesterday from Shanghai, had a narrow escape during the passage. The wooden casing round the boiler caught fire, and was in a blaze in a very few minutes—holes were cut in bulkheads and decks, and a powerful force pump attached to the engine was the salvation of the vessel as far as the fire was concerned. It took the crew two hours to subdue the flames, and by that time the vessel was so full of water that she nearly went down—It was blowing a gale of wind at the time with a heavy sea on.

The vessel is provided with one boat only—and which under any circumstances could only have been the means of saving four persons—the rest of the crew must have been lost had the vessel gone down.

NOTICE.

THE Salt Fish Shop named Hing-Loong, was established in 1854, by Yip-Pang, Chung-Man-Lee, Yip-Chee-Wo, Wong-Choy, Chan-Yow, and Wong-Leong-Too, who had once or less shares. They afterwards opened Heem-Loong, Pig Shop and Heem-Yu, Fowl Shop.

In settling accounts at the end of 1863, it was found that every Partner had expended some money from the Shops. All however, had re-paid what they had expended but Wong-Leong-Too, who had expended to the amount of $1,520 which sum he was unable to re-pay. He consequently requested one Wong-Fai-Ting to consult the other Partners that he wished to be cleared from the debt and be paid $130 more by cancelling his name as being a Partner in the above named Shops. The request was granted and he was paid $180 on the 10th Moon of this year when he made a Card for giving up his shares and withdrew the agreement. So from this date and in future the business of the 3 Shops above mentioned whether prosperous or failing will be nothing to Wong-Leong-Too.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK OF INDIA.

THIS Company has been formed for the purpose of purchasing a site in the Colony of Hongkong for Docks and constructing Docks and erecting suitable Premises thereon for carrying on the Business of Building or Docking and Repairing Steamers and Sailing Vessels, and for the purchase of the Docks now owned and carried on at Whampoa by Messrs. T. HUNT & Co. with the Appurtenances Plant and Good-will of the Docking Business of that Firm.

It is proposed to register, the Company as one of Limited Liability either under the Imperial Act or under any Ordinance which the local Legislature may pass enabling local Companies to do so, the property of the Company in the meantime being vested in the Trustees, and the Deed of Settlement of the Company, now in course of preparation, is being framed in accordance with this intention.

The very considerable increase in the number of Vessels employed in what may be termed local trade, or in voyages that either originate or terminate, at Hongkong, in addition to the great quantity of tonnage visiting the Port from all quarters of the World, afford ample scope for the remunerative operations of Dock Companies, in addition to those which are already in existence.

Application has been made to Her Majesty's Government with reference to obtaining a site for the proposed Docks in the Colony, and the project has been favourably entertained, steps being in progress to facilitate this object, the necessary preliminary investigations as to the suitable character of the proposed site having been conducted and satisfactorily reported upon, by Mr. S. B. RAWLING.

Liberal support has been promised to the undertaking which it is contemplated must necessarily prove a very remunerative one.

Further applications for Shares can till further notice be addressed to the Undersigned from whom forms of application and all particulars can be obtained.

Counsel for the Company.

The Scheme of a Local Bank for this Colony with Branches at the most important places in China, has been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hongkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidly within the last few years that additional Banking facilities are felt to be required.

The Banks now in China being only branches of Corporations whose head quarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefly with the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local trade which has become so much more extensive and varied than in former years.

This deficiency the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company will supply, and will in fact assume the same position with relation to this Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities.

The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong, providing an adequate supply of proper currency, will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the almost certain disappearance of the existing Compradore system (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive medium for the transaction of the monetary operations connected with trade.

For the anticipated success of this enterprise there are therefore ample grounds; and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shews that the largest profits are obtained by those Public Companies which possess an interested local body of Proprietors or Shareholders whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai and as the importance of its business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a local Board of Directors there for more effectually meeting the work. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other places.

In the distribution of Shares Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere, who are directly interested in the China Trade.

Applications for Shares must be addressed until further notice, to the Provisional Committee, care of HONGKONG, 17TH DECEMBER, 1864.

TOUCHING matters theatrical. We have certainly hitherto been advocates for light pieces, and have considered five act plays as decidedly too heavy in this enervating climate after the labors of the day. But we must say, that the performance at the Queen's theatre on Thursday evening goes far to make us alter our opinion. It is not that the legitimate drama is too slow for the taste of this community, but that the representation of the legitimate drama has heretofore been quite inefficient in developing those traits which form its chief ornaments.

Confining our remarks to the play of Ingomar, which formed the chief attraction on Thursday evening. It is one fiveact melo-drama of a high caste and although confined to one leading topic, has still considerable range. We do not know who the author is, nor did we ever hear of the play before. It is a difficult play to produce, inasmuch as it requires an extensive dramatis personæ, efficient scenery and appropriate costumes. In short, it is a play which can only be produced by professional artistes, well up to their work. In all the respects named, the representation was unexceptionable. Indeed it is a marval, how, with such meagre materials as are here available, such excellent scenic illusions and dramatic effects could have been attained.

The main drift of the piece is the effect of the tender passion on the mind of a barbarian. The scene is laid at Syracuse; Ingomar is the Chief of a tribe of mountaineers, who lived as did the Scotch Highlanders when the kilt was the badge of a chief—that is to say, by pillaging their more civilised and wealthy neighbours. This tribe had made captive an old man, the father of Parthenia (the heroine of the piece). His friends being unable to ransom him, Parthenia went to the haunt of the mountaineers, and gave herself up as a hostage for the ransom of her father. She met the Chief, Ingomar, a splendid fellow, as savage as a bear, as brave as a lion, and as honest as daylight. He could understand a man loving his comrades, or his steed, or his dogs, but as for the tender passion of a man towards a woman, it was incomprehensible. Women in his eyes were mere drudges and slaves. However, he soon became enamoured with Parthenia, and on attempting to gratify his passion by violence, she drew a dagger and threatened to destroy herself, unless he desisted. His admiration of her courage increased his passion, and finally he left his comrades, took her home and married her.

The scope for the portrayal of the tender passion is evidently great under such circumstances. The spell of love enthralling the savage—his attempts to resist it—his regret at abandoning his wild life—afford excellent opportunities for the development of fine acting. Then the tableaux which are presented by the quarrels and revolts of his followers—the situations in which he is placed in connection with some of the incongruities and inconsistencies of civilized life—his indignation at being required to act the part of a spy—, form striking and varied features, which at times cause thrilling interest to be felt towards the play.

Mr. C. F. Thorne was absolutely great in Ingomar—his tout ensemble, his attitudes, his voice and gestures give him a natural aptitude for the part, which a close study of his enabled him to portray beautifully. Miss Mattie Aldrich, performed Parthenia in a very charming manner. Master Marsh acted the part of a miser with great success. The subordinate parts were all well done, and we have no hesitation in stating that nothing to be compared with the representation under review was ever seen in this colony before.

It will be seen that another five act play will be performed at the Queen's to-night.

PENINSULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY.

NOTICE OF REDUCTION OF PASSAGE MONEY.

IN the year 1857 the Directors made a considerable reduction in the Company's rates of Passage Money, which continued in force till 1861.

In that year, owing to the extraordinary rise in the Cost and Freight of Coals, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of Naval Stores, the Directors were reluctantly compelled to return to the rates of Passage Money previously in force. They are now happy to state that a decrease in the price of Coal and other expenses of Steam Navigation enables them to reduce the Company's Passage rates to the undernoted scale, which will take effect from and after the 1st June next, viz:—

From Hongkong to:—

Suez,	$150
Malta,	510
Marseilles,	530
Gibraltar,	530
Southampton,	550

Reserved Rates for Single Persons.

Suez,	$920
Malta,	1,020
Marseilles,	1,060
Gibraltar,	1,080
Southampton,	1,100

Reserved Rates for Married Couples.

Suez,	$1,460
Malta,	1,260
Gibraltar,	1,318
Marseilles,	1,348
Southampton,	1,388

The charges for Children are in proportion to the above.

The above rates are exclusive of the amount payable to the Egyptian Transit Administration for conveyance of Passengers through Egypt, viz:—

For First-class Passengers, $32
Children above three and under ten years, half-fare.

By Order of the Managing Directors,

THOS. SUTHERLAND,
Superintendent.

THE SECOND CYCLONE.

Report of the Cyclone experienced at the Sandheads, October 21st, 1864.

SHIP "HOTSPUR."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20th.—A very wild, red sunrise, about noon heavy rain began, which continued during the rest of the day and night. Lat. 19 deg., 33½ min N., long 88 deg. 43 min E.

FRIDAY 21st.—Between 1 and 8 A.M., tremendous rain, and very heavy rain for the rest of the day, with but little wind and that variable. Lat. 20 deg. 7 min. N. long. 89 deg. 47 min. E.

5 P.M.—Sounded in 13 fathoms, blue mud, ship standing to the northward; by allowing 60 miles of westerly current for the last two day, supposed ourselves 30 miles east of the Lower Floating Light, but not having had observations during that time, thought it right to come to an anchor, until we could find our position, knowing that there was a strong set to the westward.

6 P.M.—Brought up in 13 fathoms; stiff blue mud, and veered away 50 fathoms of cable.

8 P.M.—Barometer 29 deg. 92 min., having risen four hundredths since 4 P.M., as the wind was moderate, considered this a sufficient evidence that the weather would not be very bad.

About 11 P.M., noticed that the barometer was falling with extremely heavy rain, and moderate squalls of wind from E.b.S. As this led me to suppose that worse weather was coming, turned the hands out to send down royal and top-gallant yards, and veered away 116 fathoms of cable.

MIDNIGHT.—Barometer 29 deg. 82 min. Thermometer 80 deg. wind gradually increasing with heavy squalls; increasing in sharpness, and tremendous rain.

SATURDAY 22nd.—1 A.M. bar. 29 deg. 78 min. thermometer 80 deg. 5 min. Wind E. S. E. Between 1 and 2 it became manifest that a cyclone was passing over us; the lightning was beyond description. A ball of light sat on the main royal masthead. The rain fell in a sheet rather than in drops, and one may truly say that the darkness, could be felt except when the red glare of the lightning made all visible. About 2 A.M. the wind shifted to the southward, blowing in furious gusts at intervals; in the course of an hour or two, it shifted from E.b.S. to S. W. and from that to N.W. The hardest gust was from S.W., laying the ship over, as if we had been carrying a heavy press of canvas, and it must have been then that our topgallant-masts blew over the side. Considering that each of these masts was supported by three stays and six back-stays, with no yards on them, and the ship lying quite steady under the pressure of the wind, one could hardly have conceived it possible that it could blow hard enough to carry them away; the sound of their fall was not heard on deck, in fact I had sent the crew below to get some coffee, and had told the boatswain and his mates that as soon as they had drank it, we must strike our topgallant masts.—During a flash of lightning I looked aloft, and saw the three hanging in the topmast rigging. The short time which the wind took to shift from E.b.S. to S. W. leads me to suppose that the east side of a cyclone (very near the centre) passed over us.

About 4.30 A.M. after a furious clap of thunder, the wind shifted to N.W., and blew only a hard gale with very cold rain; all the rain before having been warm. The N.W. wind now exposed the ship's stern to the S. E. sea, which was coming up in great rollers, and topping tremendously, like awful breakers; this filled our stern cabins with water, but it decreased very quickly, and in a few hours we had a very confused but moderate sea.

As the day broke, we saw the Alnwick Castle totally dismasted to the N.E. of us, another ship partially dismasted to the eastward, and a third to the S.W. Signalled to the Alnwick Castle to ask if we could give her any assistance, but she answered "No, thank you." Cleared away the wreck and sent the hands below for 5 hours rest; got a double altitude in the afternoon, and found that we were in lat. 21 deg. 3 min. N. long. 88 deg. 51 min. E. Very cloudy all day with a strong N. W. wind.

As I was not able to leave the deck during the height of the gale, there is unfortunately no record of the barometer during that time. The aneroid barometer was only registered at the following hours:—

21st 8 P.M.	29·84	thermometer	81 deg.
22nd 5-15 A.M.	29·52	"	82 deg.
" 6 "	29·60	"	82 deg.
" 7-30 "	29·70	"	82 deg.
" 8-30 "	29·74	"	81 deg.

SUNDAY 23rd. 4 A.M.—Commenced shortening in cable. At daylight saw a pilot brig standing towards us; she had stood to sea to avoid the gale, and was on her way back to her station. She supplied us with Mr. Scott, pilot, and told us of the fearful disasters caused in Calcutta by the hurricane of the 5th. Weighed, and beat to the westward against a light westerly wind. HENRY TOYNBEE, Commander.

Englishman Oct. 28th.

The following passengers were on board the in fated Persia which was lost in the late cyclone at Calcutta.
